

Nuclear Radiation Balance

Over the last few days Celletech has had numerous calls relating to the nuclear disaster unfolding in Japan. We would like to address these concerns and offer a direction for your consideration.

While the immediate tsunami danger has passed, there is the lingering threat of radiation exposure from the horrific damage from explosions and the ongoing concerns of containment at the Fukushima nuclear plant north of Tokyo.

Health officials have encouraged residents to seek temporary shelter and take iodine pills to deal with the potentially deadly consequences of nuclear radiation. The iodine tablets are useful because they protect the thyroid from absorbing excessive radiation in the form of radioactive iodine. Other than that, there are no specific pills that are recommended for the public in this circumstance.

Contaminated Radioactive material may be carried by wind and air currents and spread to neighboring islands and countries. For all concerned, there are protective steps that can be taken with Celletech's Homeotherapeutic Nuclear Radiation Balance.

Celletech has had this combination available for over 9 years. We have an adequate stock for your needs made up to deal with this disaster. Please just let us know if you would like the liquid or pellets.
